

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The combination of a necklace having a pendant with an aperture, and a pair of eyeglasses having lenses and a frame. The eyeglasses have hinged temple bars, one of which is capable of extending through the aperture while the necklace is worn, to carry the eyeglasses with the pendant. The frame and/or the temple bars, and the pendant, are made of materials that are substantially identical in appearance, to provide identification between the necklace and the eyeglasses.